

Fight like you live here.

We're proud to endorse Bill Irwin and the progressive team in Piscataway!

Bill Irwin, Kamuela "Nikki" Tillman, Ralph Johnson, and Laura Leibowitz are fighting for Piscataway residents every day, and they need your support in the Democratic Primary.

These progressive candidates are committed to join us in our work to stop all fossil fuel projects, protect access to clean, affordable drinking water, and usher in a rapid and fair transition to 100% renewable energy.

Instead of letting politics as usual continue to dominate in the Trump era, this team has been organizing their community for positive change, starting a grassroots organization to build support for important issues. All four have served Piscataway as either school board members or neighborhood representatives on the Middlesex County Democratic Committee.

They have been fighting for years to improve access to government meetings and make the local government more inclusive of the diverse population of Piscataway. They also helped make Piscataway the first town in New Jersey to pass a referendum enacting community choice aggregation, a progressive policy that will help Piscataway transition to 100% renewable energy by 2035. Because of their hard work, Piscataway residents are already saving money on their electricity supply and sourcing it from more renewable sources.

Now, more than ever, we need real leaders in office to fight for us and ensure we have clean air, safe water, and a healthy environment. Throughout the pandemic, Bill, Nikki, Ralph, and Laura have been working hard to assist their neighbors in need and using the internet to get their message out, sparking an important dialogue that has been missing here for many years. If you're a registered Democrat, your mail-in ballot should have already arrived.

Stay safe and remember to stay in and vote this primary season!

Onwards,

Matt Smith

New Jersey State Director

Food & Water Action